

Treating Periodontal Disease Using the Perio Protect Method™

Certification Program - Table of Contents

Purpose

Overview

FDA Clearance - Perio Protect Method™ - Perio Protect™ Certification Process - Further information

Anatomic and Physiologic Considerations

Anatomy and Physiology - Incidence - Gingival Sulcus and Crevicular Flow

Perio Protect Method General Information

Initial Examination

Medical History - Clinical Examination

Indications of Periodontal Disease Noted at Office Visits

Color - Contour - Stippling - Plaque Index - Presence and Degree of Stain - Calculus - Mobility

- Papilla Bleeding Index - Ulcerations - Periodontal Probing - Attachment - Radiographs - Oral

Cancer Screen - Intraoral Images - Impressions

Differential Diagnosis - Gingivitis - Periodontitis

Proposed Treatment Plans

Gingivitis

Proposed Treatment Plan and Usage Instructions - Tray Prescription - Medications Prescribed

Periodontitis

Determining Type of Tray - Determining Number of Trays - Usage Instructions - Tray

Prescription - Medications Prescribed

Re-evaluation Office Visits

General Patient Tray Delivery

Patient Usage Instruction Demonstration - Tray Wearing Instruction

Patient Consultation and Informed Consent

Patient Compliance

Perio Tray™ Models and Seals

A Successful Start: Impressions and Models - Steps for a Good Impression - Model Inspection -

Evaluating Tray Efficacy and Seal Function - Tray Adjustments - Tray Modifications

Steps in Sequential Treatment and Treatment Modification

Gingivitis

Visit to Deliver Perio Trays™ - Re-evaluation Visits

Periodontitis

Periodontitis Treatment Plan Overview - Visit for Delivery of First Set of Perio Trays™ - Week 10 (Third Visit)

Managing Extreme Cases

Evaluating the Tray Efficacy and Seal - Week 28

Complications, Reactions, and Side Effects

Allergies - Black Hairy Tongue - Medications

Usage of the Perio Protect Method with Scaling and Root Planing and Periodontal Surgery

Scaling and Root Planing

Special Periodontitis Circumstances

Usage of Type 1 Tray for Periodontitis - Whitening Trays - Perio Protect Method™ and Implants

Long-Term Homecare Management

Informed Consent

Insurance Coverage and Filing

Frequently Asked Questions

Steps to Certification

Appendix

Anticipated Income - Gingivitis Patient Treatment Regimen and Informed Consent - Periodontitis Patient

Treatment Regimen and Informed Consent - Initial Examination Form - Treatment Flow Sheet - Tray

Instructions - Example of a Denial of Treatment Form - JAGD Article on Tetracycline Effects

Bibliography